What Our Customers Have to Say...

“Thanks for the great job of getting the ground containers set at my job sites for the summer’s Bond Construction Projects. The staff at American made it happen!
I know my timeline was very tight and this was no easy job.
I appreciate what the staff at American Trailer has done for us.”

Thanks Again—Bruce
(Shawnee Mission School District)

“American Trailer saved the day when we had an emergency and they delivered a container within 4 hours. They have been great to work with and have been an asset to our district for the past 3 years.”

Thank you—Jim
(Center School District)

First Annual Metro Earth Day Festival

Creative Mind and Hip Academy artists Aaron Sutton, Feminine King Qlamo and J. McConnell have joined together to create this freestyle graffiti mural in honor of Kansas City's First Annual Metro Earth Day Festival held on April 22, 2007 produced by StoneLion Puppet Theatre and sponsored by The Chameleon Arts Caravan, Kansas City Parks and Recreation and The Neighborhood Tourist Development Fund. American Trailer & Storage was glad to participate by donating the use of this container for this important project

Throughout the weekend these four graffiti artists assisted by passersby, children playing at the Brush Creek Community Center and Earth Day festival participants spent approximately 32 hours painting these representations. On one side of the container you can see pollution trying to conquer the environment and on the other side several Earth Mothers are standing in opposition. (All products used are safe for the ozone!)

J. McConnell started the Hip Hop Academy and Creative Mind as an outlet for inner city at risk youth. They supply creative after school and weekend outlets for the talent of Preschool-18 year olds. Their center is based at Operation Breakthrough located at 31st and Troost Kansas City, MO and they travel to area centers and schools as well.

As we Celebrate Another Year...

To all of our customers,

THANK YOU for the confidence you have placed in our company and our people.

We appreciate your business!
